Michelin has granted Tablogix the business for managing warehouse operations at Michelin National Distribution Center located in Davydovo village, Moscow region, in the late June 2018. According to Michelin requirements, operations had to be launched on the 1st of August, 2018 due to contract termination with the previous logistic provider. Despite the strict timelines for project implementation phase, Tablogix has launched operations in accordance with agreed schedule and made smooth transition of operations to its control.

Within four months (August'18 – November'18) Tablogix introduced new culture to warehouse operations making a great emphases on the teamwork considering Michelin requirements for operations. The best practices and new solutions introduced by Tablogix made positive impact on performance of Michelin warehouse operations and set a good platform for further development.

We are looking forward to future cooperation with Tablogix team and recommend Tablogix as a reliable, professional and respectable partner.
